Kids:

Children, preschool through 6th grade, can sign up at their local Library and start a reading game board. The more they read, the more stickers and prizes they can earn. They can also earn stickers for checking out and returning Library materials or by participating in special activities.

Teens:

Teens in 7th – 12th grades can sign up on a teen game board to earn a raffle ticket for reading and participating in library activities. Small prizes and raffle tickets are awarded at different points along the game board.

Camps and Other Groups:

Summer camps and other groups may also participate in the Be Creative @ Your Library game. Books, printed materials, and prizes can be provided so that groups may run their own programs. Library staff can also make site visits and present a Library program, or groups can schedule visits to their local Libraries. Please call your local Library to schedule an appointment.

Summer Reading Online:

Kids, teens, and adults can sign up online at www.freelibrary.org/summerreading to participate in Summer Reading Online, as well as submit book reviews and more to enter online prize raffles held throughout the summer. Summer Reading Online will begin June 1 and end on August 31, 2009.
